

Leçon 5

Cinquyime lèçon

- Îy Chantal ! Çà vos va ?
- Bondjoû m' fi. Dji n'a nin à m' plinde, mèrci. Èt vos, ça vos va ?
- Come on djon.ne. Dijoz, li côp passé, vos m'avez d'mandé si dj'èsteu mârié. Èt vos, vos-èstoz mâriéye ou bin vos-èstoz comére tote seûle ?
- Mi, dj'a pièrdu m' compagnîye, ça fait d'dja mwints-ans.
- Çà fait qu' vos-èstoz veuve, insi ! Èt voste ome, c'èsteut on-ome tot seû ?
- Non, li, il aveut dès frés èt dès soûs èt il èsteut d'vôrcî.
- Èt vos-avez dès-èfants ?
- Non, dji n'a pont d'èfant mins dj'a dès nèveûs èt dès nèveûses.
- Nos r'causerans d' vosse famille li côp qui vint ?
- Quand vos v'loz ! Mins nos causerans dèl vosse èto, don ?
- Bin sûr ! J'qu'à on djoû, Chantal !
- Jusqu'à on djoû, Pôl !

LESSON # 5

Fifth lesson

- Hi Chantal! How are you doing?
- Hi! Not too bad, thank you. How are you ?
- I am quite well. By the way, last time, you asked me if I was married. And you, are you married or still a single?
- I have lost my spouse quite a long time ago.
- So, you are a widow. Was your husband an only child?
- No, he had brothers and sisters. He was local.
- Do you have children?
- No, I don't, but nephews and nieces.
- Next time, we'll talk about your family?
- As you like. But, we'll talk about yours too, all right?
- Of course, goodbye Chantal!
- Goodbye Pol.